

"Four Under Forty"

CALL FOR NOMINATIONS

Do you know a successful NAIFA member age 40 or younger, someone who has aimed high and risen even higher while staying committed to his or her community, family and team? And would you like to see this person's story and photo in an Advisor Today cover story? If so, take a moment to fill out the "Four Under Forty" nomination form on the next page. Association leaders, readers, members and other interested parties can use this form to nominate a member for the "Four Under Forty" June 2009 issue of Advisor Today. Nominations are due on or before Thursday, Jan. 15, 2009.

Candidates for consideration do not have to be MDRT qualifiers or have served on a NAIFA local or state association board. Rather, we are looking for young, well-rounded NAIFA members who have a compelling story to tell. They should have given back to their communities and must be able to balance their work and home lives successfully.

To qualify, nominees must be NAIFA members in good standing and 40 years of age or younger at the time of the 2009 NAIFA Convention and Career Conference, which takes place from Sept. 12-16, 2009, in Orlando, Fla.

Along with appearing in the Advisor Today "Four Under Forty" cover story, the individuals selected will receive complimentary registrations and complimentary three-night hotel accommodations to attend the convention. At the convention, those selected will receive an award and participate in selected YAT activities.
