Mac Computers Give You A Better Bottom Line

When looking at total cost of ownership, it's clear that Mac computers are priced comparably to PCs. For starters, Mac computers aren't prone to the 257,000 viruses that plague PCs. For your business, that translates into less downtime and more productivity. And because software and hardware are made to work together, you won't encounter the crashes and conflicts so typical with a PC. You might miss your IT guy—but you won't miss the line item on your budget. Over, business customers tell us that computers last longer and require less tech support and in the long run, end up costing less.

Mac Computers in Business

The New Standard for Small Business and Enterprise Infrastructure
