Effective Time Management

- The Key to Your Success! -

People who are out to build a very successful and profitable business recognize that they have to use their time strategically. Time is very perishable inventory: If you don't use it today, it's gone forever.

Come to this presentation to hear tips that will support you in investing this valuable inventory wisely! You'll learn things that will make a tangible difference in getting maximum return on the time that you invest in your business, while receiving specific coaching for common problems business people confront about using time effectively.

Caryn Condon is a business consultant and seminar leader with Consulting Alliance Inc., a California-based firm offering breakthrough courses and programs for entrepreneurs and business professionals.
